CRAFT BY NATURE, NOT BY DEFINITION.

At SALT we don't line up behind the expected craft brewer behaviour. We share the same desire for hands-on quality but are just as interested in getting more outlets and their drinkers sipping on great craft beer.

So, if you're looking to start your outlet's craft journey, or build on what you've got, SALT are our perfect craft beer partner.

We've got a great range of craft beers made for both the craft curious and the craft comfortable, and free from all the stereotypical craft noise. We've always done things our way, and we always will, we call it craft mastery, down to earth delivery.

DUTY CHANGES

1 AUGUST 2023

This year will see the biggest reform of alcohol duties for more than 140 years. The government will introduce a new, simplified alcohol duty system based on the principle of taxing alcoholic drinks by their alcohol content (ABV).

These reforms are the result of the Alcohol Duty Review, which follows a commitment by the Chancellor in the 2021 Autumn Budget to simplify the alcohol duty system. The new legislation will create standardised alcohol duty bands across all types of alcoholic products, with all tax rates calculated based on the litres of pure alcohol in the product.

To support innovation and responsible drinking, low strength drinks below 3.5% ABV will be charged at a new lower rate of duty.

In addition, the government is introducing new reliefs to support businesses. These will include a Draught Relief, which is a lower rate of duty. It will apply to alcoholic products under 8.5% ABV.

These reforms will impact individuals and businesses involved in the manufacture, distribution, holding, sale and consumption of alcoholic products across the UK.

We will be forwarding an email with values of either increases or decreases in the next few weeks. If you are not already registered for newsletter updates please go to our website and subscribe.

All duty changes will be applied from 1 August.
